Kelowna Welcomes Shelfspace for Inaugural "Re-tales" Event

Tuesday, June 8
6:30 to 8:30 pm - Manteo Resort
Cost $10 person for Shelfspace Members,
$15 for Non-Members

Retailers from the Central Okanagan are invited to come together for the first "Re-Tales of the Community" story telling and networking event on June 8 in Kelowna. The event will feature Jim Belshaw, owner of Roy's Shoes, Boots and Repair in Kelowna who will share his experiences, successes and challenges around what it means to be an entrepreneur.

This opportunity for Kelowna's entrepreneurs to learn how one of their own has made himself known on a national and international stage is orchestrated by Shelfspace - The Association for Retail Entrepreneurs in conjunction with the Central Okanagan Economic Development Commission. This inaugural entrepreneurial celebration brings together retail owners, managers, staff and industry suppliers to meet one another, share stories, hear about new ideas and collaborate on issues that impact their businesses and their industry.

Retailers from across the Central Okanagan are invited to participate. For more information, click here.

students in grades 7 to 12.

With the Central Okanagan having one of the highest rates of entrepreneurship in Canada at 97 percent, the aim of the program is to provide youth in our community with hands-on learning experiences and create excitement towards the topic of entrepreneurship.

The theme of this year's competition was to "Create Your Own Summer Job - Tourism". Students started working on their projects in February and were judged by professionals from many areas of the community. Students had to complete three tasks which included creating their product or service, developing a financial plan, and a marketing and promotion plan. The competition is highly successful, as over 50 percent of task three teams take their business concepts to the start up stage.

The 2010 Award winners are:

Secondary School Winner of $2,500

Kelowna Secondary School Team iTour Kelowna consisting of Allie Lemoine, Kristen Valnicek, Kassia Vinci, Kayleigh Zinger-Harris. iTour Kelowna created an iPhone and iPod Touch application to promote local tourism.

Middle School Winner of $1,000

Okanagan Adventist Academy team Neeko consisting of Nicole Dacre and John Eek with their Okanagan Cases business. Neeko created hand-crafted cases shaped as fruit inspired by Okanagan orchards and vineyards which are ideal for a Bluetooth headset, spare change, cell phone or keys.
